ACCELERATE
Advanced Leadership
Programme

I didn't really 'feel' like a manager. I felt too inexperienced to consider myself that way. I also felt that I didn't really have the 101-knowledge needed to be a good manager.

After completing ACCELERATE I now feel like a manager, like I have the capability, the knowledge, and the confidence to step up when needed. I really enjoyed that the course had practical lessons that I can take away and test with my team.

I would recommend IMNZ because they engage facilitators and trainers of exceptionally high quality. They create a safe learning space so that useful and insightful discussions can be held without feeling like you're asking stupid questions. I got so much out of it, and material that I can take with me and refer to in future situations - it's going to be helpful for most of my career.
