Think on Your Feet

I knew I was interested in the Think on Your Feet course as I had previous exposure to the Think on Your Feet concept. It is known for being very easy to follow and use in everyday communication. That sounded ideal for me as I wanted to learn techniques for improving my communication and engagement.

Although this course is available across New Zealand I gravitated to the reasonable cost through IMNZ.

I found the tools really helpful and easy to apply!

I would recommend IMNZ to others. Studying with IMNZ has improved my personal productivity and has positively influenced me at work.
