“Lisa made the course really easy to engage with and her patience and warmth made it a real pleasure to be there.”

“Lisa used simple language and her own personal experience when facilitating. She really engages and takes full interest at what each person says; Lisa is kind, compassionate and accommodates to our learning styles. I feel so comfortable expressing myself in her sessions and not being afraid to speak up or share my own experiences. Thank you.”

BIO

LEADERSHIP & MANAGEMENT FACILITATOR

With an extensive management background, Lisa understands the varying needs of different types of managers – one size does not fit all. The skills and systems a middle manager requires are quite different to a senior, or owner/manager, or director. Developing the management skills of technically expert managers (typically owner managers and middle managers) is one of Lisa’s specialist areas.

Lisa’s business analysis and financial management experience means she understands the dollars, people and system sides of business success. Lisa appreciates the uniqueness of each business and enjoys tailoring solutions to achieve measurable results.

Her style is insightful and practical. Whether through training or coaching, she enjoys seeing clients create vibrant, successful organisations with increased levels of staff engagement, efficiency, profitability and customer satisfaction.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Lisa has a Bachelor of Business Studies and has completed further studies in governance, process improvement, systems thinking, behavioural science, organisational learning, facilitation, adult teaching and coaching.

She is a member of the EMA, IOD and IMNZ
